I.T.S, Ghaziabad celebrated Republic Day at ‘PARIVARTAN’ – The Slum Education Programme on January 27, 2022.

The day’s activities began by explaining to the little learners why the 26th of January is an important date on the calendar for Indians. He made the children realize what nation-building actually involves and why being independent itself does not imply much for a country. Rashmi then referred to the two major national festivals and asked the children to explain how Republic Day differs from Independence Day. Seeing that the kids were in a bit of confusion, she proceeded to emphasize how the two occasions serve two very different purposes. Next Rashmi and Sagar invited the children to come over and recite a few patriotic songs or poems known to them. Everyone who participated was presented with a small replica of the Tricolor. As the day was drawing to a close, the assembled learners were given sweets and toffees to mark the end of the day.

I.T.S, Ghaziabad organized an activity under ‘Parivartan’ – The Slum Education Programme on February 18, 2022.

There was a nip in the air amidst distinctly warmer weather as winter indicated its retreat amidst a receding pandemic. Surendra initiated proceedings by providing a primer on basic traffic rules to be observed on a day-to-day basis. This was of particular importance for the kids in attendance as most of them live in slums that are close to the daily traffic; crossing roads safely is an essential requirement. Common traffic practices like the left-right-left rule were reminded to the tiny tots. The second part of the day’s sessions focused on the rules of English grammar. Neha enlightened the students about what constituted good language in common English usage. She was assisted by Mamata as they ensured that the learners properly followed whatever was being taught; uses were copied in the notebooks, which were checked by the instructors. A quiz was carried out where the day’s learning was evaluated. With the day drawing to an end, Haldiram Chips and Melody Coffee Bite toffees were distributed among the children before they headed home.

I.T.S, Ghaziabad conducted activity under 'Parivartan' - The Slum Education Programme on May 11, 2022.

It was a very inspiring tale where the basic idea was to teach the children the fact that it is not necessary that the situation will always be in one's favour. In such circumstances it is more important to keep faith in oneself, one's near and dear ones and in God. Things will ultimately come around, but one needs to be patient. The second part of the day's proceedings consisted of a game of tambola. Aryan took the lead, assisted by Abhishek and Anuj, as the kids were instructed to strike out the relevant numbers as they were announced. As has been the trend at Parivartan, the games are not simply games; the idea here was to encourage memory retention and quick response to stimuli in a competitive environment. The ultimate winners were presented with sketch pen sets. With the day's programme drawing to a close, and with everybody exhausted from the exertions, Britannia Good Day biscuits and Melody Coffee-Bite toffees were distributed among the learners, before they headed homewards.
